HISTORICAL REPETITION

A REMINISCENCE OF A QUARTER OF A CENTURY AGO.

The Proposition that the Government Buy Out the Mormons Revives the Story of a Similar Move—Killed by President Buchanan's Opposition.

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 12.—Many papers have variously commented upon a proposition that the national government solve the Mormon question by buying out the Mormon possessions for $50,000,000, in an agreement, by them to leave the country. Emigration to New Guinea or some other of the islands of the Pacific has been suggested.

This is a curious illustration of history repeating itself. The veteran, the Hon. Wm. Gibson, in sister of foreign affairs for King Kakaia's dominions, in 1857 was a party to the scheme for buying out the Mormons on somewhat the same terms as now suggested. He proposed that the Mormons seek a home among the islands of the Pacific, and New Guinea was mentioned by him as a fertile land, at that time without government or protectorate. The Mormons, he thought, would accept $5,000,000 for their Utah possessions, and agree to depart within three years, the government to furnish a convey of naval vessels to their new home. Mr. Gibson drafted his plan and sent it to Brigham Young. That wily leader, weary with a long tussle against Mormonism, promptly replied, inviting Mr. Gibson to Salt Lake City. After conference with General Cass, secretary of state, and several prominent congressmen, all of whom regarded the scheme with favor as promising an easy solution of a troublesome question, Mr. Gibson started for Utah. Brigham Young, meeting over the details carefully and authorized Mr. Gibson to submit the plan, unchanged in its main features, to the authorities at Washington. He did so, but President Buchanan earnestly opposed it on the ground that it was unbecoming the dignity of a great nation to virtually admit, as it would, that it could not enforce its laws within its own borders. The presidential opposition killed the scheme. Now it crops up, after all these years, with a proposition to pay ten times the original amount. The argument advanced by President Buchanan would doubtless have equal weight to-day.

Brigham Young was promptly advised of the result. At that time he had a small Mormon colony in the Sandwich Islands. It was on the east side of the island of Oahu, some distance from Honolulu, and exists to-day, with about 3,000 souls there and in adjacent islands, who are in no wise interfered with by the native authorities. Many of the Mormons are natives, and they are governed from Salt Lake City. Young arranged with Gibson to go there with a company of the colonists a company to go to New Guinea. Young agreed, if the outlook was promising, he would largely reinforce the new colony from Europe, where Mormon proselytizers were even then at work. When Gibson reached the Sandwich Islands in June, 1861, investigated the colonization scheme, found it impracticable, and went to sheep raising. He gradually drifted into politics, and is now one of the most influential men in the Hawaiian kingdom.

A New Mormon Colony.
DALAS, Texas, Jan. 12.—Elders Joseph Kimley and Samuel Whitestone, of the Mormon faith, passed west via the Texas & Pacific with seventeen proselytes—eight women, six men, and three children, en route to the new Mormon colony near Cluses, in the State of Sonora, Old Mexico, west of Sonora railroad, near the shores of the Gulf of California. The name of the new colony, Elder Kimley stated, is Mt. St. Young, named for the late prophet Brigham Young, and the establishment of which is the result of the severe treatment Mormons are receiving from United States authorities in Utah. The proselytes were from Georgia. It was learned that an extensive proselyting movement is on foot in Georgia and adjoining States. The members of the party were apparently poor and very illiterate.

Fire Ravages.
CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 12.—Fire in the machine shops of the Lake Shore railroad at Collinwood destroyed the machine shops, a part of the round house and one locomotive. The loss is $40,000 said to be covered by insurance.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 12.—Fire damaged the upper portion of the building of Henry Martin, corner Main and Twelfth streets, to the extent of $10,000. Water caused an additional loss of $10,000 to a dry goods house on the first floor. Other parts of the building were occupied by small families who suffered more or less. Martin is fully insured.

Youngful Murderers Confess.
OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 12.—Thursday afternoon Robert Roberts was hauling brush from a section of railway land near Fairchild, Neb., claimed by a family named Taylor. While on his way home Roberts was met by two parties in a wagon, one of whom shot him, and they then drove off toward Taylor's house. Members of the Roberts' family witnessed the murder from their snout. They saw the smoke and heard the report of the gun. Going to the spot they found Roberts dead. Two of Taylor's sons, aged thirteen and fifteen years, were arrested for the crime. They denied it at first, but were run up to a tree and confession forced from them. The sheriff and coroner rescued them from the excited mob and have them strongly guarded.

Murder, Robbery and Arson.
CRAWFORDVILLE, Ind., Jan. 12.—One Wm. Chaffee, of Whitlock, has been arrested by a horse detective on suspicion of robbing J. W. McMillan and wife and burning them in their house. Boot tracks about the burned house exactly correspond with his hob-nailed shoes. He was put in charge of Benjamin Swank, a country lawyer, at the Boston store, instead of being brought to the county seat immediately and in the night escaped. Pursuit is now being made after him. There is little doubt of his guilt. McMillan had lost nearly $50,000, all of which he spent a few days ago, except a few hundred, which the thieves got. The charred remains of the old man and his wife were found in different rooms. It makes a great sensation.

Small Drowned in Southern Freshets.
ALEXANDRIA, La., Jan. 12.—Great suffering and loss of stock on the north and south sides of the Red river, have been caused by floods from recent rains. The Calcasieu was three feet higher than ever before known. Little river is three feet higher than in 1864. At least 500 head of stock have been lost.
